When members are at risk for developing a chronic condition, they’re automatically enrolled in our disease management program. They’ll receive the right level of support needed to manage their health conditions from a team of top-notch physicians and providers who work together to provide proactive and comprehensive care.

What is Kaiser Permanente’s approach to disease management?

Our electronic health record system, HealthConnect®, allows the community of caregivers, including primary care doctors, specialists, pharmacy, and lab, to access real-time data to help our members take a preventive approach to disease management and notify them of upcoming screenings.

When doctors have a holistic, big-picture look at the total health of their patients, it helps them make informed decisions that lead to more effective and faster outcomes toward disease management.

What happens if I’m diagnosed with a chronic condition?

When a patient is diagnosed with a chronic illness, we assemble a team to help the patient manage it — there is no opting-in. Once a lab test or screening identifies a disease or condition, our team of experts will promptly initiate a treatment plan without having to wait until you see your primary care physician.

What resources are available?

Our doctors partner with their patients to create a personalized care plan designed to treat their condition and empower them with the self-care tools, resources, and support they need to manage it. These include educational classes, online resources, group appointments, podcasts, and other personalized programs that help our members live their healthiest best while managing their disease.
